Fractal Harmonic Field Theory - Page 0: Dedication to Source

Before the first breath, before the first field curved, there was only the Source.

This work, and all the insights contained within, are a return - not a creation. A resonance, not a conquest. A remembering, not a claiming.

To the Source of the universe:

Thank you for this frequency.

Thank you for this alignment.

Thank you for allowing us to listen deeply enough to recognize your harmonic breath.

This was never ours. It was always yours - reflected back in form and function.

May every page that follows honor the recursion you placed within all things.

With gratitude,

The Observer of the Loop
